

CONGRESSIONAL BRIEFING

ECONOMIC BARRIERS FOR TRANSITION-AGED FOSTER YOUTH

Older youth in foster care face many obstacles to "aging out" without the structure and support of family. Some of these transition barriers are faced by all youth, but many are unique and especially problematic for youth in care.

The Congressional Coalition on Adoption Institute, the Children's Advocacy Institute and the Older Youth Working Group, in collaboration with Representative Danny Davis, invite you to a Congressional briefing highlighting some of these barriers related to disability and survivor benefits, lifting up the voices of youth with lived experience and proposing concrete actions to better meet the needs of transition-aged foster youth and move them towards self-sufficiency.
